Itinerary

Tbilisi - Tskneti - Tsalka - Tambovka - Shaori Fortress - Tbilisi

8:00 AM, pick up from Tbilisi hotel.

Drive to southern part of Georgia, pass Tskneti and continue to Tsalka - the largest settlement and municipality center of Kvemo Kartli region.

Soon after leaving Tbilisi, make a short stop at the viewpoint called "Sidedris Ena" (Eng: "Tongue of Mother in Law"), which was featured in Hollywood movie about Russo-Georgian war in 2008 called - 5 Days of War, starring among others: Rupert Friend, Andy Garcia and Val Kilmer.

Next stop is in village Tambovka, located at the shores of Paravani Lake, the largest alpine lake in Georgia. This village was founded by Russian Doukhobors (Christian religious group). Few of them still live there, despite harsh climatic conditions. Their settlements are characterized by unique architecture. Even though, most of the houses are in ruins, there are several examples of traditional Doukhobor houses, with green roofing and fancy facades.

After visiting the village, continue west towards the mountains, where the hike begins. The trail here is not marked, it is recommended to always follow your guide, as the "path" is barely noticeable and lies on the rocky terrain with unstable rocks. The upper section of the trail hides a big surprise for the visitors - ancient "street" that is made out of finely laid flat rocks, which must have been constructed several thousand years ago. This final and most pleasant to walk section, leads you to the main highlight of the journey - Shaori megalithic fort, located on top of the mountain.

Until today, it is not certain what was the purpose of this construction, some scholars say it was used for Astronomic observations while others are more inclined to its sacral origin and proclaim it as an ancient pagan temple. Whatever it is, one can definitely feel its mysterious atmosphere.

After reaching the top and having a picnic lunch at the fortress, slowly descend back to the vehicle and drive back
